

FESTIVE ALAMEDA HOMES NEEDED

Do you have a grand, festive, or unique Alameda home? Would you be interested in opening your home for one day to help raise funds for Alameda Family Services? Potential homeowner FAQs:

When is the Alameda Holiday Home Tour? Saturday, December 8th, 2018

What does the time commitment for a homeowner look like? Homeowners are asked to attend an informational evening reception in November (1-2 hours), and be willing to open their homes from 9am-4pm on Saturday, December 8th. Complimentary tickets to the event are provided for all homeowners.

Does my home have to be a Victorian, huge, or lavishly decorated? No, no, and no. Our goal is to find a variety of homes for the 500+ home tour guests to enjoy. Some are decorated extravagantly while others are a bit more subdued with unique architecture, an interesting history, or a recent beautiful remodel.

With all of those guests walking through my home, how do I know my home and possessions will be safe? Every home has an experienced head home docent who you will meet prior to the tour and will be present throughout the day to oversee tour guests and docents placed through the home. A large insurance policy is taken out for the day of the tour just in case of an accident.

Who puts on the home tour and who benefits from the proceeds? The Alameda Family Services League has been hosting the Alameda Holiday Home Tour for almost five decades with all proceeds going directly to Alameda Family Services, a human services organization, active in Alameda and the East Bay, whose programs improve the emotional, psychological and physical health of children, youth and families.

I'm intrigued, what's next? Contact us today at (510) 629-6208 or AlamedaHolidayHomeTour@gmail.com for more information about putting your home on the 48th Annual Alameda Holiday Home Tour. A League member will contact you to set up a home visit, chat about the details, and answer any additional questions you may have.
